FOREWORD

This is the second issue of the bi-annual digest of statistics which aims at presenting, in a condensed form, demographic, social and economic statistical information on Mauritius.

With the present issue some new features or additional tables have been introduced in the following sections : demography, national accounts, labour and local production. New statistical series will be included from time to time as they become available.

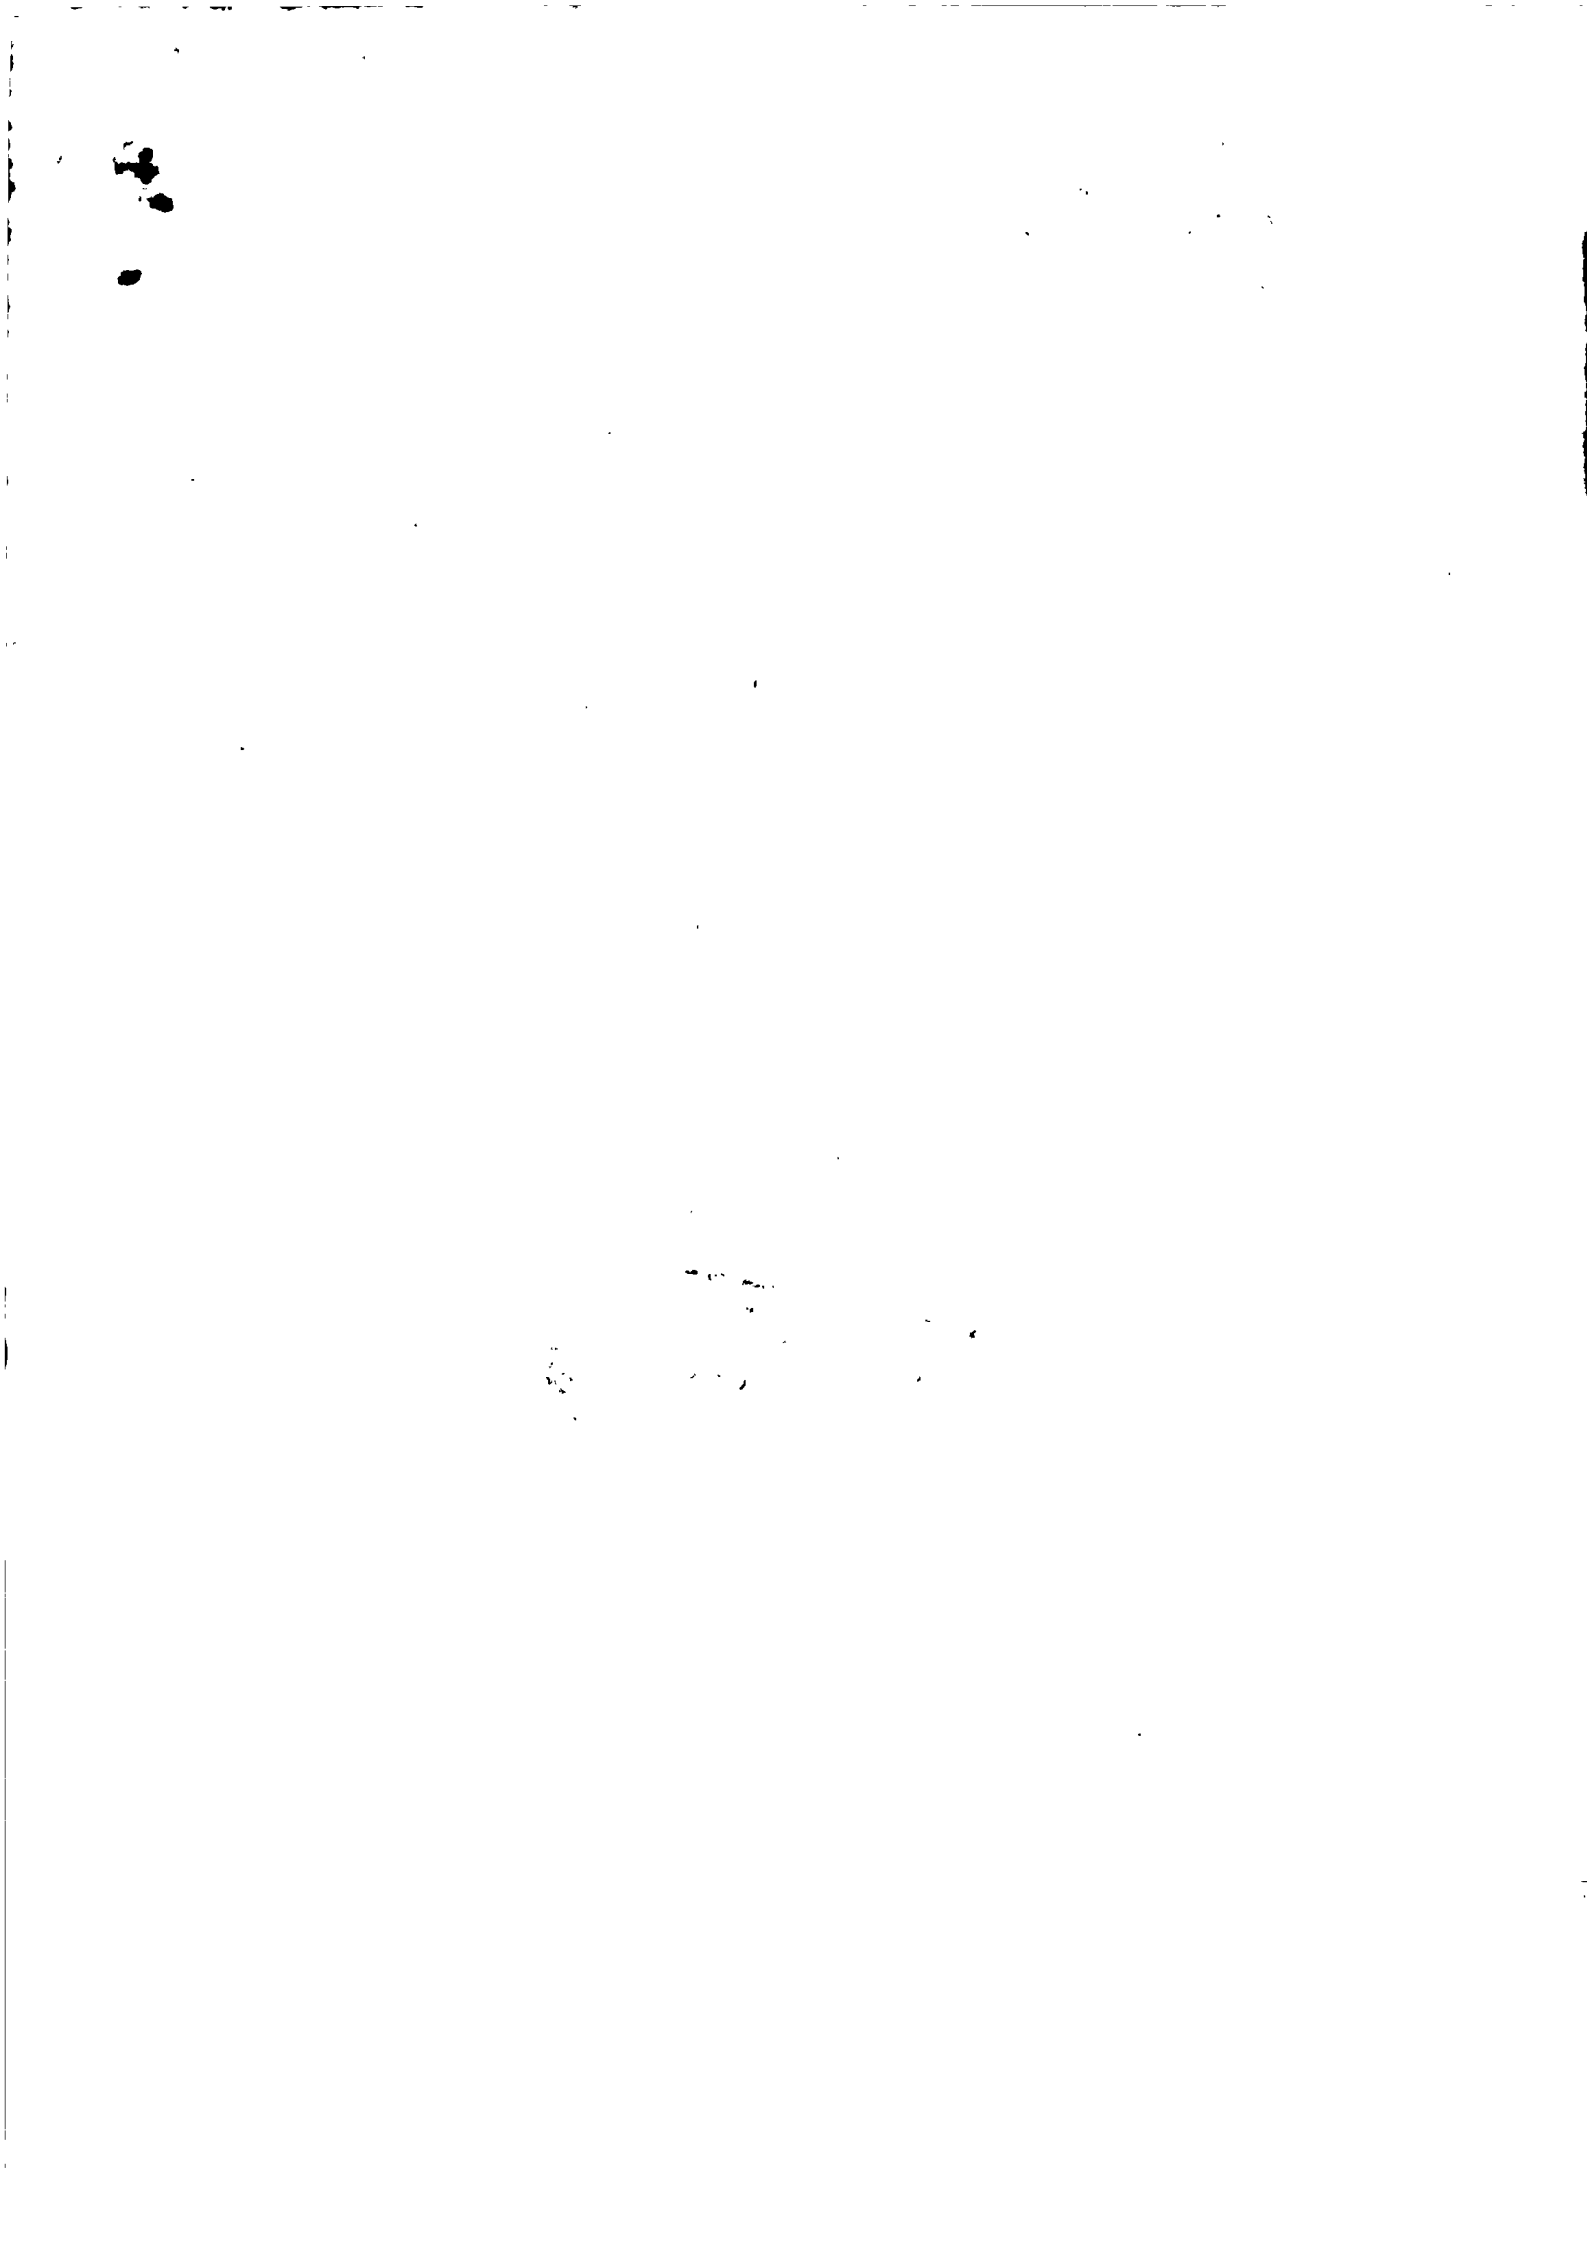

Our readers are reminded that, as the material already published may be subjected to scrutiny and revision in the light of new information obtained, the figures published in each issue of the digest supersede and replace those appearing in the preceding volume.

The Central Statistical Office is grateful to those readers who have come forward with suggestions for improving the scope, form and content of this publication. It is hoped that this excellent practice will continue.

M.ETIENNE
Director of Statistics

October, 1967.
