Housing and Population Census
REPUBLIC OF MAURITIUS

VOLUME I: Housing and Living Conditions

Foreword

This year Mauritius took its seventeenth Census. The 2000 Housing and Population Census was taken in two rounds like the last three Censuses conducted in 1972, 1983 and 1990. The Housing Census was conducted from February to April while the Population Census was taken in July. The data processing for the Housing Census has been completed. The Population Census data are currently being edited, coded and keyed in for computer processing. The operations are expected to be completed during the half of 2001. The longer delay is due to the larger volume and greater complexity of the population data as compared to the housing data.

This report is the first in the series showing the results of the 2000 Housing and Population Census. It presents data on the Housing and Living Conditions in the Republic of Mauritius in tabular form. An analysis of these data will be carried out later and published in due course. It is hoped that the present report will be particularly useful to administrators, planners and policy makers and the public in general.

As for the 1990 Census, the 2000 Census data are being published down to the level of Municipal Wards or Village Councils Areas. Sub totals are provided for geographical districts as well as urban and rural areas within districts. For the first time, data for the island of Agalega is included. All tables include separate totals for the island of Mauritius, Rodrigues and Agalega and a grand totals for the Republic of Mauritius.

It is with great pleasure that I put on record here my gratitude to all persons and organisations who have contributed in one way or another to the success of this census operations. In particular, I would like to thank members of the public for their co-operation, the census fieldstaff, the Mauritius Broadcasting Corporation, the Government Printer, the Central Information Systems Division and my own staff.

Concepts and Definitions

Building	A building is an independent free standing structure, comprising one or more rooms and other spaces covered by a roof and usually enclosed within external walls or dividing walls which extend from the foundation to the roof. Toilets, bathrooms, kitchens and garages in detached structures are not counted as separate buildings
Housing Unit	A housing unit is a separate and independent place of abode intended for habitation by one household, or one not intended for habitation, but occupied by a household for living purposes. Although intended for one household, a house unit may be occupied by more than one household or part of a household
Room	A room is a space of at least 4 square meters in a housing unit, enclosed by walls reaching from the floor to the ceiling or roof covering.
Rooms for Living purposes	This category includes bedrooms, dining rooms, living rooms, studies, habitable attics and closed verandahs which are used by a household for a living purposes. Kitchens are included if they are least 4 square meters . Open verandahs, corridors, lobbies, bathrooms, toilets, stores garages not used for living purposes are not considered as rooms
Detached room	This is a structure, without cooking facilities, which is occupied by one or more members of a household living in another building.
Household	A household is either a person living on his own and making his own provision for food and other essentials for living, or a group of two or more persons, whether related or not who live together and make common provision for food and other essentials for living. Cases of persons having varying degrees of common housekeeping have been considered as one household if there is any arrangement to share at least one meal a day. Households living in housing units have been referred to as private households to distinguish them from households in communal establishments such as hotels, infirmaries, hospitals and other institutions.
